77th Annual NW District Buddhist Convention

CONNECTIONS

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

White River Buddhist Temple is a Jodo Shinshu religious institution and community resource for the Auburn valley area that strives to share the teachings of the Buddha, to practice the everyday Dharma, and to embrace an inclusive and diverse sangha.

Founded in the early 1900s, the temple was founded by Japanese immigrants who followed the Jodo Shinshu faith founded by Shinran Shonin. Over the years the temple has evolved to include people with a variety of ethnicities and cultures.

The 77th Northwest District Buddhist Convention is an annual event dedicated towards bringing together over 400 members and friends from across Washington, Idaho, and Oregon. The event touches on timely issues and the perspective that Buddhism brings to the table. Join as a sponsor to have your brand recognized as a supporter of the largest and oldest Buddhist Temple network in the United States.
